

Financial Management System

Obtain a real-time view of your operations, enabling management quickly and accurately to analyze, plan and control your company's financial resources.

Benefit from automated, integrated functions that free your team for higher-value activities.

Wherever you're doing business now and wherever you may do business in the future, keep your business in balance with visibility and management tools to track, manage and improve the company's performance.

In times past, manufacturers attracted the attention of business customers and consumers with the utility and quality of their products. Today, they are just as likely to draw notice and scrutiny for the quality of their accounting practices. With ever more restrictive regulatory and legal requirements impacting the content and preparation of financial records, sound financial management has become both a challenge and a potential competitive advantage for those who are equipped to adapt quickly to this changing environment.

Organizations that conduct business in a number of legal jurisdictions face an even more difficult task, with additional regulations and the need to reconcile multiple currencies, business practices and cultures. Manufacturers clearly benefit from a highly flexible, enterprise-wide financial software solution that supports internal transparency of information with access controls and a clear view of the company's performance on an international scale, a solution like Infor Financial Management System (FMS).

Financial management with a real-time view.

Infor FMS solution, part of our Discrete Manufacturing Essentials, provides your business with a real-time financial view of your operations, enabling management quickly and accurately to analyze, plan and control your company's financial resources. Manufacturers have discovered that the moderate cost of incorporating these capabilities in their businesses is insignificant when compared to the potential hazards and expense of noncompliance.

Infor FMS business software integrates all aspects of financial management, including:

- Financial accounting and budgeting
- Asset management
- Costing and value flow
- Payroll and human resources
- Cash and credit management
- Reporting and analysis
